

Nanotechnology & Occupational Health

D.Y.H. Pui, University of Minnesota

A. Maynard, Wilson Center

Goal: International Symposium to address the potential implications and applications of nanotechnologies in the workplace, and to develop responsible nanotechnology.

2nd International Symposium on Nanotechnology
and Occupational Health

October 3-6, 2005
Radisson Hotel Metrodome, Minneapolis, Minnesota

Early Registration Deadline: July 31, 2005
Register online: www.cce.umn.edu/nanotechnology

Sponsored by:
National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH)
University of Minnesota Office of the Vice President for Research (OVPR)
Center for Biological and Environmental Nanotechnology, Rice University (CBEN)
Air Force Research Laboratory (AFRL)

Co-sponsored by:
Health & Safety Executive (HSE)
National Nanotechnology Initiative (NNI)
Institute of Occupational Medicine (IOM)
American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME)
National Nanotechnology Infrastructure Network (NNIN)
American Industrial Hygiene Association (AIHA)
National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS)
ENVIRON
The Proctor & Gamble Company

Facilitated by:
College of Continuing Education, University of Minnesota

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

2nd International Sym

- NNIN-PTL is the organizer of the Sym
- 429 registrants from 22 countries
- Tutorials, Keynotes, Platforms, Posters, and Industrial Forum
- 16 papers selected for the book by Springer
- Book already received 20 press reviews
- 3rd Int Sym to be held in Taiwan, 8/29-9/1, 2007

Impact: Ensure relevant risk-research is appropriately directed, and reduce uncertainty over how to access and manage the risk of engineered nanomaterials in the workplace.
